Section B: Module Descriptor
Rationale for Inclusion of the Module in the Programme and its Contribution to the Overall IPLOs	This module introduces learners to the concepts of political philosophy as it has developed in the Western tradition. It focuses on the changing ideas of the appropriate relationship between individual and the political entity. It develops learners' critical and analytical abilities through reading primary texts. For those taking the philosophy stream, it builds on modules in previous Stages, deepening knowledge of core texts in the area of moral and political philosophy and the associated skills of reading, analysis and argument construction. It contributes to the Programme aims of developing learners' critical skills and the ability to form arguments. It meets the IPLOs 1, 2, 3, 5, 8.
Module Aims and Objectives	This module aims to provide the learner with an overview of the central issues within Political Philosophy and Secular Belief Systems through a critical survey of the major theorists in the western political tradition. The key focus of the module is to trace the development of European political philosophy from its early Greek origins through to the defining period of Social Contract theory. The module will present learners with core texts, concepts and theories in political philosophy.
Minimum Module Learning Outcomes	On successful completion of this module, learners should be able to:

	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Summarise primary philosophy texts. (MIPLO 2, 3) 2. Identify and explain political concepts such as relationship between individual and the political entity, property ownership, and legitimate government in the writings of philosophers of this period. (MIPLO 2, 3) 3. Compare and evaluate theories from the philosophers we have studied on the module. (MIPLO 1, 2, 5, 8) 4. Critique the political theory of individual philosophers from this period. (MIPLO 2, 3, 8)
Information Provided to Learners about the Module	College Prospectus specifies module name, stage and ECTS. College website and programme handbook to contain (in addition to above) short description of module content, module learning outcomes, prerequisite modules, and assessment mechanisms. Module handbook to contain (in addition to above) schedule of classes and topics, detailed assessment information with titles and submission dates, full bibliography and list of learning resources. Diploma Supplement contains module name, code, stage and ECTS.
Module Content, Organisation and Structure	Content covered: Nature of political philosophy, vocabulary, fundamental concepts and themes. Pato's Republic, structure and aims, assumptions about human nature, education, the Philosopher-King, knowledge, Forms and legitimacy. Popper's critique and a response. Social Contract theories – Hobbes and Locke. The state of nature, human nature and natural rights. The basis for legitimate sovereignty. Property. Marxist analysis of Hobbes, post-colonial critique of Locke. Feminist critique of the Social Contract. Freedom and duty – Rousseau. The Social Contract, the General Will, his notion of freedom vs Hobbes and Locke's view. The structure of this module allows learners to chronologically understand assess the development of European political thought on concepts such as legitimacy, proper relation of the individual to the state and ownership of property. Learning is delivered weekly in a two-hour lecture over a twelve week period.
Module Teaching and Learning Strategy	The content of this module is delivered in lectures. The lecturer models the skills of exposition, analysis and critique in delivering the content and draws attention to the process. At this higher level, learners will contribute to discussion in a structured fashion.
Work-Based Learning and Practice-Placement	N/A
E-Learning	Notes and reading made available to learners on Moodle.
Specifications for Module Staffing Requirements	Staff:Learner ratio is typical of the overall programme approach with a maximum of 60 learners

	Staffing requirements: 1 lecturer with teaching and/or research competence in the relevant area. However, as a cross-programme module, additional staff will be required where the maximum number of learners exceed the resources available.
Module Summative and Formative Assessment Strategy	Assessment will be by continuous assessment comprising of pop quizzes (20%), review questions (0%) and a written essay (80%). There are two pop quizzes (10% each). They will be formative and summative in that they will encourage memorisation of relevant information and will feed into the final grade. (MIMLO 2) The review questions are a formative form of assessment. Learners are asked to verbally explain a concept from the previous lecture at the beginning of each lecture. (MIMLOs 1, 2) The essay (2,000 – 2,500 words) is both a formative and summative form of assessment. It assesses knowledge, ability to analyse and evaluate, and the ability to form an argument and develops research skills. Each learner receives extensive feedback on their essay. (MIMLOs 1, 2, 3, 4)
Sample Assessment Materials	Sample pop quiz questions: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. List two rights Locke believes we hold in the State of Nature. 2. What gives us entitlement to own a particular thing, according to Locke? 3. List Locke's two original limitations on property ownership. Sample review questions: How did Rousseau describe human nature in the State of Nature? Why do humans need to leave the State of Nature, according to Rousseau? Sample essay topic: Analyse one or more of the political theories we have studied in Term One under either of the following headings: (i) Feminism – provide a feminist analysis of the theories you have chosen and assess the value of the theory for producing a woman friendly state. OR (ii) Application to a scenario – analyse a current or historical scenario where the legitimacy of a government was in question. Determine what one or more of the theorists we have studied might say about the situation.
