

PROGRAMME KEY

- AH Arts & Humanities
- EH English & History
- CS Social, Political & Community Studies
- SC Social Studies / Social Care

The below modules are available as part-time or stand alone modules and are delivered as part of our full-time undergraduate programmes. Modules are grouped by subject area with a programme key indicated which programme/s they belong to, and which year. The number alongside each programme key refers to the year of the degree the module is provided for.

CONTENT - MODULES LIST

Psychology
English & the Creative Imagination
History
Theology

Philosophy
Politics and Society
Social Care

PSYCHOLOGY

POSITIVE PSYCHOLOGY

Positive psychology is the science of human wellbeing which uses an applied approach to cultivate optimal functioning. The aim of positive psychology is to promote human flourishing through scientific research on what makes a life good. AH4

SOCIAL PSYCHOLOGY

The aims of Social Psychology are to provide the learner with a deep understanding of how thoughts, feelings and behaviours can be shaped by the real or imagined presence of others. AH2

EDUCATIONAL PSYCHOLOGY

This modules aim is to show the contribution of psychology to educational practice. You will be introduced to research on classroom behaviour and management, pupil-teacher relationships, pupil motivation, learner readiness, individual differences and difficulties pupils may experience such as reading and writing disorders. AH2

THE PSYCHOLOGY OF GENDER & SEXUALITY

This module aims to develop sophisticated readers of complex literature. It will challenge you to develop your ability to organise your thinking around complex literary works like those of Marx, with the psychoanalytic arguments of Freud, through the demonstration of sophisticated skills. SC4 learners are introduced to diverse approaches to counselling such as gestalt counselling; person-centred counselling; behavioural/cognitive-behavioural counselling; reality therapy; family/couples counselling; applied behavioural analysis.

COUNSELLING PSYCHOLOGY

AH3

CLINICAL PSYCHOLOGY & MENTAL HEALTH

The aim of this module is to understand human behaviours that impair a person's ability to function in daily life. You will be introduced to personality and intelligence tests, interviews, patient observations and written case studies. You will also learn about historical figures, with disorders, as well as the philosophical ethical issues surrounding the treatment of persons with these disorders.

AH2

ENGLISH

CREATIVE WRITING: ADVANCED POETRY

In this module you will create a body of work that demonstrates, through modelling, a sophisticated understanding of the features of the art of poetry in our time. This course aims to have learners appraise the current state of the art of poetry, and through their own creative practice.

AH3 EH3

THE EIGHTEENTH-CENTURY NOVEL

This module studies the early history and development of the English novel. You will learn about the production of literature in the eighteenth-century, the different types of fictional styles and genres of the period, how novelists responded to cultural, social, economic and political issues.

EH2

CONTEMPORARY IRISH WRITING

In this module examine a selection of Irish novels and short stories written or published (approximately) in the last twenty years. Learners will consider how recent Irish writing has represented and interrogated certain key cultural, socio-economic and political transformations in Ireland's recent history

EH2 AH2

LITERATURE OF THE VICTORIAN AGE

Ranging across the genres of fiction, poetry, drama, and criticism this module aims to help learners develop a critically-informed and imaginative approach to the analysis of Victorian literature which is founded on understandings of important contemporary social and political developments.

AH2 EH2

MODERN DRAMA IN PERFORMANCE

The objective of this module is to help learners develop a critically-informed and imaginative approach to the Study of a number of key works of modern drama, as well as an in-depth understanding of some of the important features and characteristics of modern dramatic performance.

AH4 EH4

READING MODERN POETRY

This module aims to develop sophisticated readers of complex literature. It will achieve this objective by challenging learners to develop their ability to organise their thinking around complex literary works through the demonstration of sophisticated skills.

EH3 AH3

INVENTING AMERICA:19TH CENTURY AMERICAN LITERATURE

This module explores the relationship between American literature and the political, economic, social, and literary forces shaping it, including: the evolution of democracy; slavery, religion, and theories of race; (proto)feminism and gender identities; urbanisation; ecological perspectives; evolving views on self and sanity; and key aesthetic movements like Southern Gothic, realism, and naturalism.

AH2 EH2

WORLD LITERATURES

This module focuses on critical, dramatic, and creative works of literature from a range of different countries and cultures which were written in, or have been translated into, the English language. These texts are studied through postcolonial, comparative, and world-literary critical perspective

EH4 AH4

GENDER & SEXUALITY IN POST 60'S IRISH CULTURE & WRITING

This module aims to challenge learners to investigate the assumptions of their culture around gender relations and to grasp the political significance of those assumptions. It will do this by asking them to analyse post-war Irish society from horizons provided by conceptual frameworks developed in Philosophy, Sociology, and critical theory.

EH3 EH4

HISTORY

PROPAGANDA & POLITICS: IRELAND 1918 - 1937

Study how political parties were formed, how voting systems were created, how political parties and candidates propagandized their aims and objects, how the media influenced society and how voting patterns emerged along with an exploration of the historiography.

AH4 EH4

RE-IMAGINING IRELAND, 1850-2000

This module will guide learners through the key developments in the history of Ireland from the mid-nineteenth century through to the end of the twentieth century. It will locate the Irish experience within wider European and global experiences.

AH2 EH2

NATIONS STATES, EMPIRES & GLOB- AL CONFLICTS 1877-1945

This module will begin with an investigation into the formation of national identities and the consolidation of nation-states in France, Germany, Russia, Italy and the United States and ideologies of liberal democracy, socialism and communism, and fascism. Particular emphasis will be placed on how nation-states actively sought global domination through imperial expansion and reorganisation, and what this meant for the colonised.

AH2 EH2

THE RISE OF FASCISM

This module examines the rise of fascism in Europe after World War One. The course aims to offer an interpretation of fascist movements and to explain why fascism was successful between the wars in central European countries.

AH3 EH3

POWER & CONTROL IN THE COLD WAR ERA, FROM 1945 - BREXIT

This module will begin with an investigation into how European societies went about rebuilding – culturally, politically, and socially – in the wake of the unparalleled death and infrastructural destruction of the Second World War. The module will examine the geopolitical struggles during the Cold War and examine the anxieties and hopes evoked by post-war technological and economic progress.

AH4 EH4

HISTORY: MEMORY & COMMEMORATION

This module will examine the processes of remembering and commemorating the past. Taking a case study orientated approach, the ways in which history and commemoration have been utilised by politicians, communities, and interest groups will be explored. Learners will have accumulated broad historical knowledge from stages two and three and can use this knowledge to assess the ways in which we commemorate past historic happenings.

AH3/4 EH3/4

BUILDING THE NATION: IRELAND 1920'S TO 2000'S

The module will explore core issues and debates in Irish life during this era through theoretical studies and practical research, focusing on shifts in industry (from self-sufficiency to outward expansion and EEC membership), education (free secondary education, creation of RTCs/ITs), hospital funding and construction (Irish Sweepstakes, government policy), and their impacts on urban and rural society

AH3 EH3

THE POLITICS OF THE GREAT IRISH FAMINE

This module aims to present the history of the Famine with an emphasis on how and why politicians and others in the public sphere reacted as they did. The module seeks to explain how a tragedy of this magnitude occurred.

AH3 EH3

PHILOSOPHY

LANGUAGE AND SELF: STRUCTURALISM TO POSTMODERNISM

This module will examine the role of language theory in relation to the increased decentring of the enlightenment humanist notion of the sovereign self, leading to post-structuralist and postmodern questionings of those assumptions of self and knowledge.

EH4 AH4

POLITICAL PHILOSOPHY 2: FROM ENLIGHTENMENT TO COMMUNITARIANISM

This module traces the development of European political philosophy from the period of Social Contract theory and the various communitarian responses to it from Hegel to contemporary autonomous Marxism.

AH3

HUMAN RIGHTS: A PHILOSOPHICAL APPROACH

This module aims to introduce learners to the principles, concepts and problems of Human Rights theory. It develops skills of analysis, critical reflection and the ability to formulate independent arguments through close reading of primary texts and analysis of Human Rights' dilemmas.

AH2/3

GENERAL ETHICS: THE GOOD LIFE

You will be introduced to the principles, concepts and problems of ethical theories based on the pursuit of a well lived human life. In particular, it will examine Aristotelian Virtue Ethics and the Care Ethics theories.

AH2

MODERN PHILOSOPHY 1800-1960

The module centres on the theme of the developing concept of self from German Romantic engagements with new concepts of knowledge. emphasis on the relationship between self and knowledge will be set against the complexities on thought about the self as the romantic period developed.

AH2

PHILOSOPHY, SOCIETY & LITERATURE

This module combines philosophy, sociology, and literature to explore how sociological shifts shape literature and mass media. In late 19th-century Paris, "modern life" introduced a new self-awareness within the metropolis. Writers like Baudelaire and Poe depict the "Flaneur"—the detached yet insightful observer of city life.

AH2/4

HUMANS AND OTHER ANIMALS: ETHICAL QUESTIONS

This module examines ethical theories regarding the moral significance of nonhuman animals. It applies traditional theories to the problem of human and nonhuman animal interaction, examining the strengths and weaknesses of different positions.

AH3/4

THEOLOGY

PHILOSOPHY OF RELIGIONS

This module will highlight the relationship between philosophy and religion during the period of the Enlightenment. Key figures of both periods will be used to elucidate the tensions and co-operations between these two traditions in this period.

AH3

TRINITY: A GOD ONE AND THREE

This module builds upon the learners understanding of the Trinity as a concept in Christian theology today. It facilitates learners in exploring the Christian understanding of God as it emerges from the history of Israel and through the person of Jesus.

AH3/4

PROPHETIC LITERATURE

This module gives students knowledge of the phenomenon of prophecy, its background and its various manifestations in Israel and in the Ancient Near East. Students will become familiar with the ministries of the individual prophets, their significance and their message.

AH2

THEOLOGY OF SOCIAL JUSTICE & APPLIED ETHICS

This module aims to present the history of the Famine with an emphasis on how and why politicians and others in the public sphere reacted as they did. The module seeks to explain how a tragedy of this magnitude occurred.

CS4 AH4

THEOLOGICAL ANTHROPOLOGY IN CONTEMPORARY CULTURE

This module explores what it means to be human through a study of a number of classical theological topics that include creation, redemption, nature, grace, the body, desire, place and belonging, and prayer. The module will study in some detail the Christian anthropology that is to be had in Vatican II's Gaudium et Spes

AH2

POLITICS & SOCIETY

SOCIOLOGY, INTERCULTURALISM AND CULTURAL COMPETENCE

This module addresses the issue of interculturalism from a sociological point of view. In contexts increasingly marked by difference, multiculturalism and globalization students will learn the key elements that may facilitate or hinder intercultural relations, both in formal and institutional, as well as in informal settings.

AH2

RELIGIONS, CONFLICT AND PEACE

Study why religions can operate as a catalyst for conflict as well as a peacebuilder. It will introduce the learners a range of case studies where major religious traditions are involved both in conflict and peacebuilding.

AH2 CS4

ADVANCED PRACTICE, YOUTH AND COMMUNITY

The module begins with an overview of Youth and Community work in Ireland. It then moves to examine theoretical approaches to Youth and Community work. The role of formal and informal education will be studied and best practice approaches to youth and community engagement and inclusion will form a major part of the module. Various models of participation and empowerment will be identified as well as their application. Community development and participatory theory will also feature.

SC4 CS4

SOCIAL CARE

ADVANCING PRACTICE: SOCIAL CARE WORK WITH FAMILIES

This module offers the learners the opportunity to focus in a greater depth on understanding and working with families. In keeping with the Tulsa Framework for Service Delivery (2018), Professional Social Care Workers are required to work closely with Child protection Teams and be involved in providing support for Children and Families with increasingly complex needs.

SC4

ADVANCING PRACTICE: YOUTH AND COMMUNITY

The aims of this module are to provide the learners with the theoretical and practical skills required to guide the practice of Youth and Community work. This in turn will enable them to become reflective, efficient and competent practitioners.

CS4 SC4

ADVANCING PRACTICE: HEALTH PROMOTION AND COMMUNITY SOCIAL CARE WORK

The module offers awareness and recognition of health and well-being challenges in contemporary society and the promotion of positive approaches to support those living with these challenges. Learners will gain knowledge around breaking down barriers to positive mental health, including issues of addiction and substance misuse.

CS4 SC4

